NEW YORK, July 23 .- (Special Correspondence.)-One is forced to believe that Dr. William Wallace Hadley, the eminent thaumaturgic panopathist of this city, is possessed of a power over disease and death not given to ordinary mortals. There seems to be no other explanation of the almost miraculous cures he has made and is making of hopeless livalids pronounced incurable by physicians, no other theory to account for his restoring to life and health men and women who were given up to death by doctors. Were it not for the conclusive evidence furnished, one would be inclined to doubt if, in this day and age, such things can be as restorations and cures that rival those of Biblical times. Yet it is proved beyond question that the human heart has been made to best again in a body that felt dead and lifeless, and that there is no disease that may not be cured. This man, this worker of wonders, seems to have absolute control over human life and the diseases that attack it. He seems not to know the meaning of the word "fail," even when faced by terrible and long standing diseases. And the wonder is increased by the fact that he has abandoned the useless drugs and medicines prescribed by doctors and gives freely of his services without nent thaumaturgic panopathist of this gives freely of his services without charge to the sick and afflicted. He appears to look upon his wonderful healing power as a divine gift, and to think that he must devote his life to laboring for the welfare of those who are afflicted and less fortunate than he.

One of the most remarkable of Dr. Hadley's cures, and one that makes possible the belief that his power approaches supernatural control over diseases, is that of a Mr. E. C. Bess, of El Campo. Texas, who was rescued from the grave after the doctors had given him up to death and could do nothing to revive him. Brought to this condition by the combined attack of kidney and liver disease, dropsy and acute articular rheumatism, he suffered the torments of the damned and was almost insane with pain before the end came. Although he was as good as dead when Dr. Hudley's attention was frawn to his cuse, he was speedily restored to life and health by this panopath's wonderful treatment, though even Mr. Bess himself confesses that he does not know exactly how this indracle was performed.

So accustomed has Dr. Hadley become

So accustomed has Dr. Hadley beco to succeeding where modern medical practice and drugs have falled that durpractice and drugs have falled that during a recent interview he seemed to look upon the truly remarkable case of Mr. Bess as one of the incidents to be expected in his daily work for humanity, saying: 'Yes, I remember the case of Mr. Bess very distinctly, but this and the other so-called miracles' of healing and restorations, to life that I have made are not miracles in the same way as those described in the Bible. They may seem just as wonderful to the witnesses, but they are in truth simply scientific phenomena that demonstrate the great power over disease that has been given ine to use for my fellow-men—a Godgiven gift, but not supernatural except as all wonders of science seem beyond understanding at first. The case of Mr. Bess is no more wonderful than that of understanding at first. The case of Mr. Bess is no more wonderful than that of a many others of my patients. Another 'miraculous cure,' as the patient called it, was that of a Mr. Harry Williams, of Traverse City, Mich. He had a terrible disease that threatened to rot his hones, make his teeth and hair fall out, destroy sight, taste, smell and hearing, and cover his body with ulcerous sores, a disease that makes a man a living corpse, like jeprosy. He also had failed to get help from his home doctors, and was in such misery of body and mind that he looked upon suicide as his only chance of escaping a more frightful death, was actually thinking of killing himself when, luckilly for him, his case was brought of escaping a more frightful death, was actually thinking of killing himself when, lucklly for him, his case was brought to my attention. I saved his life. I cured him. My treatment drove the poison out of his body, cleansed his blood of the loathsome disease germs, reached to the very root of the disease and destroyed it, testring the man to perfect health.

"I tell you, as I tell everyone else, that there is no disease I may not cure. I am just ready to cure consumption, cancer, paralysis, Bright's disease, as I am to cure rheumatism, stomach trouble, catarrh, blood disorders or any other ill that human flesh is heir to. I banish pain, renew the vital energy, restore strength to organs broken down by disease, age or actident, and make health and happiness take the place of illness and sorrow. LITTLE FOLKS' PARTY. Mr. J. W. Bell, the courteous and polite manager, does all in his power to add to the pleasure and comfort of his guests manager, does all in his power to add to the pleasure and comfort of his guests, and his clerical force is equal to all emergencies. The cuisine is fine. Friday afternoon, upon the invitation of Mrs. John Bell, the charming hostess of this attractive resort, the little folks of the Rock Alum monopolized a part of the gazvety in a jolly party, given in honor of Master James Early Thrift and little Miss Izzle Thrift, of Madison. The wee guests were assembled on the lawn, and after many gleeful and amusing games, were marched into the dining-room, where adelicious collation was served. Those present were Misses Izzle Bell Thrift, Corinne Bell, Mary Ledman. Francis Boyd, Virginia Yerger, Margaret Yerger, Carrol Melton, Dick Andrado, Geo. Andrado, Byrd Kelly, Austin Kelly, Homer Dabney Blane, Malcolm Blane, James Early Thrift.

Last Thursday morning a progressive euchre party was given by Miss Clarke in honor of Mrs. Benj. Nash and Mrs. Edmund Waddill, of Richmond, Va. A very animated game was played. The prize, a lovely engraving, was won by Mrs. Romaine Walker.

On Monday night Miss Bettle Clarke gave a seven-handed euchre party in honor of Mrs. Pope, of Louisville, A very animated game was played. Mrs. Pope winning the first prize, a handsome hand-painted fan. Mrs. Benj. Nash won the consolation prize, a very pretty engraving.

PLEASURES THIS WEEK.

A number of entertainments are announced for the coming weeks. This week not only a sense of pleasure fills the present, but happy anticipations allure us in the future. Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Tennessee, Connecticut, Texas, Kentucky, Maryland and South Carolina, these States can be justly proud of their representatives. For beauty, grace and charming manners, these States combined present a very high standard. Stanford, Conn., sends us Mrs. J. B. Cobb and her handsome daughters, Mrs. W. P. Gilmore and Miss Cobb. Mrs. Cobb and her handsome daughters, Mrs. Osborn, of New York; Mrs. Ledmun, of Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Waddill; Richmond; Mrs. Pope, Louisville, and Mrs. Benj. Miss Mary Waddill. Miss Malone and Miss Yerger possess a charming personality. Miss Nannie Waddill, the pretty debutante daughter of Judge Edmund Waddill, is both winsome and winning. Mrs. James, of Petersburg, is here for the summer, with her pretty daughter Ada and son Alvin.

Miss Bettie Clarke, of Richmond, adds much to the pleasure of all who come in contact with her. She is a charming conversationalist. Mrs. Walker, of Petersburg, is very popular and attractive. Mrs. Valentine Hechler is here for the summer with her son Valentine. She is one of the handsomest women at the Alum. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kelly are here for the summer with their handsome little sons, who attract much attention. Every one here is rejoiced that pretty little Alma Cannon has regained her health. Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Jas. Cannon and Mrs. Thrift are a charming coterie of married women. Mrs. Margaret Ward Bell, of Louisville, charms every listening ear with her exquisite voice. Some people who insist that the carp is an edible fish are publishing instructions for its treatment. The following is the proper one: Immediately on being landed the fish should be thoroughly bled and its veins injected full of embalming final to insure it from putrefaction before the book can be taken from its mouth. It should then be rubbed thoroughly with a mixture of salt and iodoform, care being taken not to touch it with the hands, and given an air-tight coating of paraffin. It may then be turned over to a scavenger for burial with comparatively little danger of its infecting anyone with blood poison—Peoria Transcript.

My stomach, liver and kidneys were in such a bad state I was afraid I couldn't ever be cured and in addition I was afflicted with sured and in addition I was afflicted with varicose veins and ulcers, that I thought could not be cured.
